PRICE FIVE CENTS

Time Races By Late Shoppers In Final Hours Of Christmas

This little piece is aimed at procrastinators: Get moving! You have just 48 hours and about 30 minutes to finish your Christmas shopping, and all the elements are in your favor, including the weather.

If you're looking for one particular item—something rare or special—you've probably waited too long, but for any reasonable person there still are ample selections for every man, woman and child of close acquaintance. So approach your favorite store with an open mind, and you're certain to maintain your reputation for choosing the right thing.

PRODDED BY SNOW

Christmas shoppers usually are prodded by the presence of snow. Remember the wisdom of grandmother when she used to say, "maybe we'll be snowed in tomorrow . . . better do it today." In those days of long ago there was little read need for merchants to extend the shopping season "till 9:30 on Christmas Eve" for late shoppers. Grandmother and her friends were shoeing the kids off to bed long before 9:30 so that Santa could fill the stockings and still get a good night's sleep.

But just because we have had no snow is no reason to be lackadaisical about this Christmas. We could have snow within the next 24 hours, providing the proper atmosphere and attitude, but adding to the hazards of last-minute duties. And Christmas, like your birthday, comes on the appointed day whether or not you're ready for it. There is no way to delay the date and there is no substitute.

SO LITTLE TIME

Even those well-organized people who always do their Christmas shopping during the August White Sales will find at the last minute they still need something. After all, you don't find red mittens at August sales, and a new doll for Susie is seldom available in June.

XMAS GREENS ON MART TODAY

The Christmas spirit prevailed today at the Farmers' Market where attendants offered stacks of Christmas wreaths, pine boughs and assorted holiday greens. White pine Christmas trees $1.50.

Date and nut cakes were $1.25 a pound, Christmas cookies were 35 cents a dozen, walnut and hickory-nut cakes were $1.75 each. Mince pies were 50 cents each.

Fresh pork products included sausage at 60 cents a pound, ribs and backbone, 50 cents a pound; tenderloin, $1.10 a pound; liver, 45 cents a pound; shoulder roasts, 55 cents a pound. Scraggle was 30 cents a pound and pudding was 50 cents a pound. Dressed chickens were 50 cents a pound.

Eggs were 50 cents and 55 cents a dozen.

Apples continued at 35 cents a quarter peck, white potatoes were $1 a peck and fresh cider was 60 cents a gallon.

A special Christmas market will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and will feature a full line of holiday and farm products. There will be no Farmers' Market next Saturday.

Catholic Archdiocese To Join Church Council Of 7 Protestant Denominations

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — The Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Santa Fe will become a member of the New Mexico Council of Churches, an organization of seven Protestant denominations.

The move was announced Friday in a joint statement by Archbishop James Peter Davis and the Rev. Harry Summers, executive secretary of the council. They called it "a cause of great expectations for every man of good will."

Archbishop Davis said that as far as he knows, his diocese, which covers all New Mexico, is the first to join a council of churches.

Gottfried Eigner Is Buried Today

Funeral services for Gottfried Eigner, 66, Biglerville R. 2, who died Wednesday at the Warner Hospital, were held this morning from the Bender Funeral Home followed by a Requiem Mass at 10 o'clock at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church conducted by Rev. Fr. Joseph P. Kealy. Interment in the church cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Patrick Plinn, Victor Newman, Kenneth Chronister, Robert Shearer, Novak Vaco and Frank MacHatsch.

FARMERS MAY FINANCE WATER SUPPLY NEEDS

The lack of rainfall in Adams and York Counties this year has emphasized the need for an adequate and safe water supply for household and farm use, according to Daniel A. Paddock, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor, who said many Adams and York County families living in rural areas had to haul water for household and farm use.

Farmers and residents of rural areas including villages and towns up to 2,500 population interested in developing a water supply system that will serve their needs can apply to the Farmers Home Administration for guidance in planning and financing the project, Paddock said.

LONG-TERM LOANS

He added that the Agriculture Department's credit agency makes possible low-cost, long-term loans up to $100,000 to rural communities, small towns, villages, water districts and other nonprofit sponsoring groups in rural areas. These loans are used to pay necessary expenses of equipment and construction to provide piped-in water for homes, farms, schools, businesses and other community enterprises.

Loans for construction, repair or improvement of water supply systems in rural communities are repaid over periods up to 40 years, and carry a maximum interest rate of five per cent.

FINANCE SYSTEMS

Under the water system loan program, farm and rural land owners band together to apply for a loan from Farmers Home Administration to lay roadside mains, erect water tanks and install pumping systems.

The water supply is purchased from a nearby town or is developed by drilling deep wells or building small lakes. The group contracts for engineering studies and cost estimates and presents these reports to the Farmers Home Administration county office along with the application.

If everything ties together to show the project is economically feasible, the Farmers Home Administration insures funds provided by private investors to defray the cost of construction. The loan is repaid from water charges collected monthly by the association from member-users.

JAIL MARYLANDER

George Robert Sanders Jr., Emmitsburg R. 2, was jailed about 11 o'clock Friday night on a charge of driving while under the influence brought by Cumberland Twp. Policeman Bernard V. Miller Sr. before Justice of the Peace John Whitman. The alleged offense occurred on the Emmitsburg Rd.

AA MEETING MONDAY

A meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous, open to the public, will be held Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church.

Individual Catholic churches in a few cities have joined local councils. He cited Tulsa, Okla., as an example.

Archbishop Davis said it was "an individual decision" and his secretary added that approval was not required from officials higher in the Catholic Church.

Archbishop Davis, 60, was installed as the ninth archbishop of Santa Fe on Feb. 25, 1964. He previously was archbishop of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

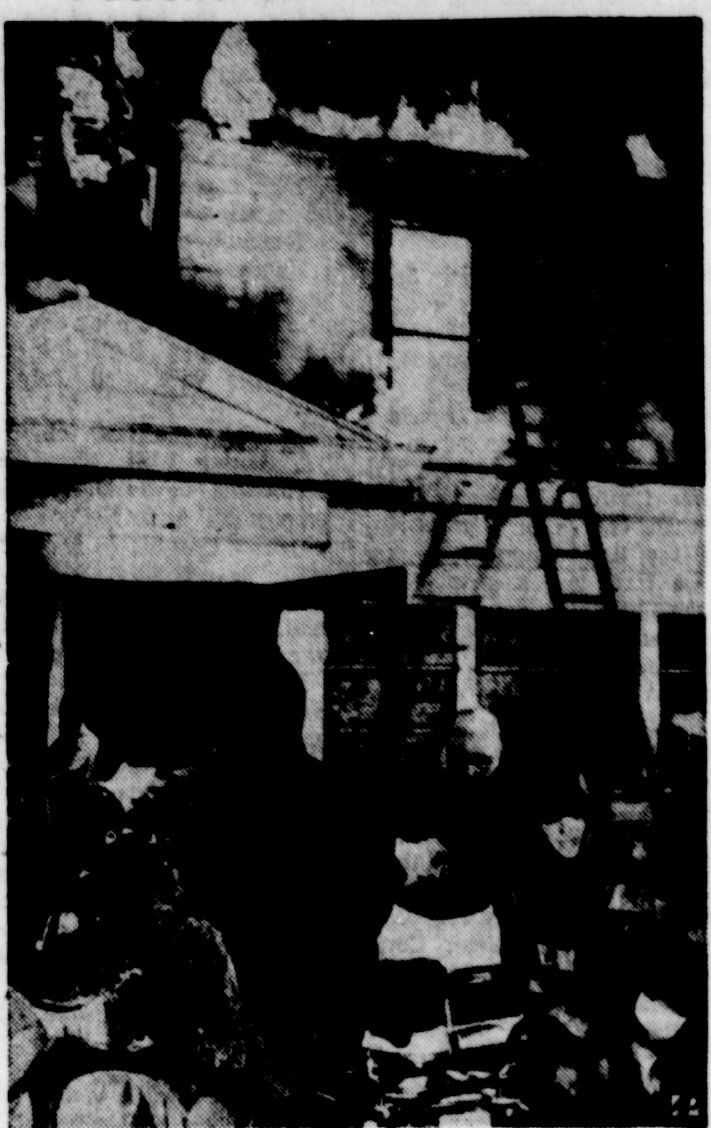

Members of the New Mexico council are the Presbyterian Church U.S.A., the Lutheran Church of America, the Methodist Church, the Disciples of Christ (Christian Church), the United Church of Christ (Congregationalist), the Episcopal Church and the Evangelical United Brethren.

4 BASIC PRINCIPLES

Four basic principles led to the union of the groups, the two leaders said:

Vandals Steal Christmas Lights

Young vandals have stolen dozens of Christmas light bulbs from outdoor decorations at homes in Biglerville, according to reports from the upper community.

Property owners in the borough have gained a reputation over the years for having some of the most attractively decorated homes in the county, but many this year have already reported that outdoor decorations "have been completely stripped" of tiny light bulbs necessary to the holiday displays.

One property owner said she routed three boys Thursday night from her home after she heard a racket on the porch. She said the boys fled the porch and hid in the shrubbery on her lawn and she was unable to identify them. However, they were able to get 21 light bulbs from her decorations before they were disturbed.

BAND MEMBERS TO SELL CANDY FOR FAIR TRIP

Members of the Gettysburg High School Senior Band today launched a candy sales campaign to help to finance their trip to the World's Fair to present a band concert next spring.

Harry Biesecker president of Band Parents, sponsors of the excursion, said the candy campaign will continue throughout the Christmas vacation. He anticipates that students will sell at least 2,000 pounds of candy before they return to classes Jan. 4.

The World's Fair Committee in charge of arranging talent performances of high school bands from 48 states next summer has notified Biesecker that the band, representing Adams County, will be scheduled for performance May 3. The students will make the trip by bus and will be accompanied by members of the Parents organization.

Biesecker said that hundreds of pounds of candy will be ready for immediate delivery and that students will take additional orders for prompt delivery at specified dates prior to Jan. 4.

Advance orders may be placed with Biesecker or with any member of the Senior Band.

HELD FOR COURT

John C. Hunter, 22, East Berlin, was released under $300 bond for his appearance in York County court after indicating his intention to plead guilty to operating a motor vehicle without wearing eye glasses when he was arrested by Justice of the Peace Dayne E. Garrett, Hanover, late Thursday night after he was apprehended by Hanover police.

WRONG NAMES

The names of Richard Straup, Kermit Spence and Russell Summers Sr. were listed incorrectly as Richard Straub, Kenneth Spence and Russell Summers Jr. Friday as pallbearers for the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Kittinger Reindollar, late of Fairfield.

CHRIST CHURCH PLANS SERVICE 5 P.M. SUNDAY

Preparations for Christmas will continue at Christ Lutheran Church Sunday with the celebration of the fourth Sunday in Advent. At the 11 a.m. service Rev. Dr. Robert W. Koons will preach on "Who's Who in Christmas." In the evening there will be a service at which "white gifts" of food and clothing will be received for distribution to needy families of the community.

At 5 p.m. a congregational luncheon will be held in the social room followed by a program under the direction of Mrs. Robert W. Koons, with Prof. Francis Reinberger as master of ceremonies. The theme will be "Preparing for Christmas — in Heart, Home, Church, Community and World." Groups of children from various departments of the Church School will lead in the singing and learning of new Christmas hymns and carols. An instrumental ensemble directed by Robert Zeigler will provide the accompaniment. The youth of the church will present a short drama on the meaning of Christmas, directed by Miss Nancy Rosenberger.

TRIM TREE

A tree will be trimmed with "Christmas" decorations of Christian significance, made by members of the Intermediate Luther League and to be placed on the branches by the children of the church. Later, each child will receive one to take home for the family tree. An explanation will be made of the way in which white gifts and funds designated for the purpose are used to help those in distress or need.

A brief concluding worship service in the nave with a simplified Nativity scene in the chancel will follow. Families will carry their gifts to the manger and will join in a dedicatory prayer and hymn. During the week gifts will be distributed by a committee headed by Mrs. Richard Hershey.

2 Girls Blinded By Lye Solution

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Doctors at Temple University Hospital are fighting to save the sight of two teen-age girls badly burned by a can of lye solution that was thrown at them.

Police said Rachel Stewart, 17, is in danger of being totally blinded; her sister, Colan, 16, may lose the sight of one eye.

Both are reported in satisfactory condition.

Detective Captain Joseph Bonner said the girls, and two others visiting another Stewart sister, Emma, in an apartment house, had argued with another resident of the house Thursday.

The girls returned Friday and were doused with the lye solution outside the apartment house, he said.

The other two girls, Joyce Kearney, 17, and Elaine Powell, 16, were treated at the same hospital and were released.

"Mountain Echo" Chosen By Press

The Associated Collegiate Press has judged the "Mountain Echo," the college newspaper at Mount Saint Mary's College, Emmitsburg, as first class among collegiate newspapers. This year's score was the highest ever awarded to the Echo.

The paper scored 245 points above the minimum 3,200 needed for this honor, which is comparable to an "excellent." The Echo scored highest in the area of general coverage, where it scored a perfect 800.

The rating indicates how a publication ranks relative to all other publications of colleges issuing the same number of papers per semester, working under similar conditions, and having approximately the same number of students.

CHORUSES TO GIVE CONCERT THIS EVENING

The Bermudian Junior-Senior High School choruses will present the annual Christmas concert this evening at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

The Junior chorus of 58 voices will sing "Deck the Halls," "Go Tell it on the Mountain" and "Up on the Housetop."

The Senior chorus, comprised of 60 voices, will present "On This Good Christmas Morn," "Ukrainian Bell Carol," "Twas the Night Before Christmas," and "Fanfare for Christmas," with a brass quartet.

SEXTET TO SING

Six girls from the Junior Chorus will sing "Pablo the Reindeer," and "Let it Snow." Members of the sextet are Pamela Eisenhart, Deborah Stoudt, Gail Wisler, Pamela Kennedy, Anita Lerew and Marilyn Diener.

Other special selections will be presented by a boys' quartet comprised of James Eisenhart, Dan Cornman, James and Michael Jacobs. The "Rhythm-ettes," 10 girls from the Senior Chorus, will sing "Birthday of a King," "Lullaby My Jesus," and "Christmas Alphabet." The girls are Jeanette Bosserman, Sarah Fair, Linda Ebersole, Mary Esheleman, Janet Sloan, Luella Sloan, Verna Cummins, Bonita Bubb, Phyllis Harbold and Yvonne Jacobs.

The program will be directed by Mrs. Merle Millhimes, vocal music instructor.

AGED COUNTIAN IS HONORED

J. Frank McIlhenny, 90-year-old resident of Hunterstown, was honored Friday evening at the annual Ladies' Night banquet of the Hunterstown Ruritan Club in the Pines Lutheran Church Parish Hall, New Chester. The women of the church served a turkey dinner and a quartet of choir members sang several selections. President Walter Geiman presented a gift to Mrs. Helen Millhimes, pianist, in recognition of her musical contribution to the community.

John Geiselman discussed Indian relics and showed part of his collection of 25,000 pieces. Lt. Gov. Raymond Hawbaker, Lemasters, installed the following officers: President, Donald Rhodes; secretary, Melvin Tressler; treasurer, Emory Seibert. Herbert Blye, vice president, was absent. New directors are Alfred Young, one year, and John K. Lott, three years.

Mrs. William Little, Gettysburg R. 4, won a television set in a special drawing; Nancy Mounsour, Hyattsville, Md., was awarded a radio, and Richard Miller, Gettysburg R. 5, was the winner of a bicycle.

INJURED IN MISHAP

The East Berlin ambulance was summoned Friday morning at 11:15 o'clock to take Miss Inez Foose, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Grim, Thomasville, to the Hanover Hospital after her car had left the highway at the Paradise Protective and crashed into a fence pole. She suffered a possible concussion of the brain and cuts about the face and scalp.

MANY SEE ECLIPSE

A number of Gettysburgians braved cold weather Friday night to watch the total eclipse of the moon. The eclipse started at 7:59 and by 9:07 was full — with the shadow of the earth on the moon giving it a dark copperish hue. At 10:07 watchers could see the moon beginning to pass off the moon, as the bright shine of the moon began to appear at one edge. By 11:15 the eclipse was completely over.

Fine Nativity Display Here Open To Public

One of the most unusual Christmas displays in the area is now being shown in the Presbyterian Church where the Nativity scene that was exhibited in the East Room of the White House during the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, is set up. The display occupies a portion of Fellowship Hall in the church and is most accessible through the High St. entrance.

The diorama of the Nativity is shown in three units depicting the shepherds receiving the announcement; the manger scene, and the presence of the Three Wise Men observing the Star. The entire display is about 12 feet in length and the shadow boxes containing the scenes are about four feet high. The figures in the various scenes are delicately constructed and show an exceptional artistic appreciation of the period environments and dress.

EISENHOWER GIFT

General and Mrs. Eisenhower, who are members of the church, presented the display to the congregation soon after their return to their Gettysburg farm to reside.

Rev. Robert A. MacAskill, pastor of the church, has prepared a narration relating to the Nativity story with appropriate carols and hymns. The Nativity scene has been viewed by members of the church during the past week and the public is invited to visit the church in the afternoons from 2 to 5 o'clock and next week Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock and following the Christmas Eve service on Thursday.

MAKE CHANGES IN TUNNEL AT GREENSTONE

Traffic to Hagerstown on the Western Maryland Railway has been suspended while workmen from the Langenfelder Construction Company make changes in the tunnel under the mountains at Greenstone.

Workmen said they anticipate the work will be completed "by Christmas" if all goes well.

The project involves lowering the track through the 540-foot long tunnel by about three feet. Involved also is the lowering of about 350 feet of track at each end of the tunnel.

Because of the work no trains have been operating between here and Hagerstown since December 14. Tuesday the workmen began blasting, drilling and grading to lower the track for the approximately 1,200 foot length.

Reportedly the tunnel clearance is being made larger because of many loads of metal work carried by the railroad, which are larger than the clearance previously given by the tunnel. Quite a number of loads were too large, and had to be rerouted. The lowering of the track is expected to permit handling of most loads which would go through this area.

While the section is cut off, freight which normally goes through here is being sent over the main line to Hagerstown.

United States Proposes To Build New Sea Level Atlantic-Pacific Canal

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A historic presidential order has opened the way for a new Atlantic-Pacific canal to replace the Panama Canal within 10 to 15 years.

The new canal is to flow at sea level through Panama or a neighboring country, and will probably put the old passage-way with its expensive locks out of business.

The troubled 1903 treaty with Panama is to be scrapped soon in favor of a new pact which the United States hopes will heal old wounds while the original canal becomes a relic of bygone days.

LONG DISCUSSED

President Johnson went before television cameras Friday to read his landmark announcement that the United States will now "press forward in earnest" to achieve the long discussed goal. He announced:

1. Secretary of State Dean Rusk will start talks with three

It Was Colder In 1932 Than Today

So you think it was cold this morning just because the thermometer dropped to 14 degrees?

Well it's been a lot colder on December 19—and a lot warmer, too.

A check of the records shows that the low reading last year on the same day was 10 degrees.

And back in 1960 the low was eight degrees.

And for a little chillier reading, back in 1906 the thermometer dropped to 8 on this day, in 1926 it was 4 and in 1932 it was down to 2.

For more pleasant readings, there was 1961 when the low was 32, and 1941 when it was 31 and 1937 when it was 33, 1935 when it was 34, and 1931 when it 42 with the high temperature 60 that day. A prime year 1931.

MISS S. BUCHER WILL DO GOOD DEED ON XMAS

For Miss Sue K. Bucher, of Biglerville, Christmas will mean work among the ill at the Evangelisches Krankenhaus in Pukersdorf, Austria. On December 28 Miss Bucher will start her second year of service in Europe under the Brethren Student Volunteer Service program, a denominational organization similar to the Peace Corps.

Her big "Christmas gift" this year will be a telephone call, already scheduled, from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Bucher, in Biglerville. It will be made at midnight December 24. It will be 6 p.m. December 25 for the Buchers in Biglerville.

WORKED IN HOME

The "Krankenhaus," literally "sick people's house" or hospital, where she is a nurse's aide, or does whatever other duties might be needed, is Miss Bucher's second assignment in Europe. She left here December 28, 1963, and the first six months she served in a Methodist home for girls in Linz, Austria, as an "assistant housemother" for 26 girls who had no parents, or an unhealthy home life, or a police record.

Of her first assignment Miss Bucher, in a letter to her parents, wrote that "some are illegitimate children who in many respects are bitter reminders of the last war. They are postwar children in the sense that they are singularly materialistic, ungrateful, city-bred, hardened and

SEND LAST OF NOTICES ON TAX RETURNS

The Adams County commissioners next week will mail out the last 2,500 of an estimated 10,000 notices to countians asking them to make personal property tax returns by February 15.

From the returns the county hopes to gain about $60,000 in taxes during the coming year.

Last year countians reported ownership of $14,919,543 in mortgages, notes, bonds, judgments, etc., listed under "personal property," on which the county levies a four-mill tax. The tax on the nearly $15,000,000 worth of personal property was $59,881.71.

If the amount of personal property in the hands of countians continues to grow as it has in the past, the total this coming year should be near the $16,000,000 mark and the tax well over the $60,000 figure.

MUST FILE RETURN

Every resident individual, co-partnership, unincorporated association and investment club in the county holding personal property is required by law to file a return to the county commissioners by February 15.

As usual the commissioners urge residents to make returns of everything they think may be eligible for taxation. The commissioners check the records carefully and anything listed which is not taxable is not taxed. The penalty for failing to report mutual fund shares or other securities listed under personal property is "assessment on the same for five prior years, with tax, plus 12 per cent penalty." In addition a fine or imprisonment can be part of the penalty.

Persons who may not have received a form can write the clerk of the Adams County commissioners or can obtain the forms from any Adams County bank.

EUB CHILDREN WILL PRESENT YULE PROGRAM

The annual Christmas program of the boys and girls fellowship of Memorial EUB Church will be presented Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The theme will be "Over the Bethlehem Hills."

The following children will participate:

Prelude, Michael Hutchison; narrator, Elaine Plank; carol, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear"; angels, Michael White, Cynthia Davis, James Plank, Terry Davis, Karen Plank, Stephen Black, Donna Sue White, Tammy Jo Rudisill, Wilbur Henry; anthem, Carol Choir, "Over the Bethlehem Hills"; shepherds, Edward Temple, David Hutchison, LeVonna Sentz, Frank Plank, Gery Hung, Perry Strausbaugh, Scott Davis, Connie Temple, Regina Rudisill; carol, "O Little Town of Bethlehem"; stars, Jeffrey Davis, Kimberly Black, Nancy Smith, Peggy Smith, Timothy Hess, Miriam Wolfe, John Kaufman, Deborah Numamaker, Michele Numamaker; carol "The First Noel"; wise men, Dennis Gorman, David Mickle, Kathy Strausbaugh, Kathy Smith, Larry Coleman, Darlene Rosenberry, Sharon Sterner; carol, "We Three Kings"; gifts, Robert Hefflin, Robert Lewis, Alan Wolfe, Ronald Cullison, Donna Renz, Betty Jane Koonz; candles, Diane Sloan, Steven Muller, Corinne Sterner, Michael Hutchison; carol, "O Come All Ye Faithful" with Grade One pantomiming. Nancy Deardorff and Dean Wetzel will portray Mary and Joseph.

Kindergarten pupils will present "The Baby Jesus." Those taking part will be Sharon Hung, Rita Myers, Sandy Hefflin, Robert Sentz.

The Carol Choir consists of the following: Frank Plank, Karen Plank, Tammy Jo Rudisill, Donna Sue White, Perry Strausbaugh, Deborah Numamaker, John Kaufman, Regina Rudisill, Edward

IKE REFUSES TO TAKE SIDES IN BURCH PURGE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan was expected to announce today his bid to topple House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck amid reports supporters of Halleck and GOP Chairman Dean Burch are forging an informal alliance to keep them in their jobs.

Ford's decision to challenge the Indianan was anticipated as he summoned newsmen to a press conference.

A group of young Republicans have urged him to try to depose Halleck in an effort to give the GOP House leadership "a younger image." Ford is 51 and Halleck is 64.

FIGHT OUSTER

Meanwhile, former Postmaster General Arthur Sumnerfield of Michigan is in the vanguard of a group of influential Republicans — some of them closely associated with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower — who are reported working to prevent the ouster of either Burch or Halleck at this time.

The impending fight for the House leadership parallels the struggle for control of the National Committee, where Burch is battling to keep his post.

But those backing Ford say there is no connection between the two ouster moves.

HALLECK ON VACATION

Halleck is on vacation. His aides say they believe they have the votes to turn back any challenge to his leadership.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, appears to be maintaining a neutral position in both instances.

He said Friday in California where he is vacationing he is taking no part in the dispute over Burch, does not plan to attend the National Committee meeting in January in Chicago since he is not a member and added: "Anyway, I haven't been invited."

He described Burch as "a very smart and capable young man."

LAUDS LEADERS

Sumnerfield offered a resolution adopted unanimously Friday by the 20-member National GOP Finance Executive Committee praising Halleck, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, and congressional campaign leaders Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky and Rep. Bob Wilson of California for their "strong, effective leadership and unwavering loyalty to the Republican party."

SIX CHILDREN PERISH IN FIRE

DETROIT (AP) — A raging house fire broke out in the northeast Detroit suburb of Warren early today, killing six children and critically burning their mother. Three other children escaped.

The dead were the sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Turner Cox — Martha Ann, 10; Mary Jo, 8; Charles, 11; Diane, 9; John, 14, and Jimmy, 3.

Their mother, Mrs. Marie Cox, 35, was listed in serious condition at Holy Cross Hospital. The three surviving Cox youngsters, all boys, were taken to the hospital for observation.

Cox, 40, a worker at the nearby Jones & Laughlin steel plant, was returning home from a part-time job as a cab driver as the blaze broke out.

Warren firemen were unable to immediately determine the cause of the fire, which gutted the interior of a two-story cement block and frame home.

Firemen quoted one of the surviving youngsters as saying he had stayed awake to watch a lunar eclipse when he heard "a big boom" and saw flames engulf the lower story of the house, trapping a number of the children upstairs.

Fine Nativity

prepared the following article on Nativity scenes:

Nativity scenes have taken a variety of forms and date back into antiquity. History tells that St. Francis of Assisi asked permission of the Pope in 1224 to set up a manger scene in the town of Greccio, Italy. Before that time display of the Nativity scene got out of hand and the events, including miracle plays, became more secular than religious.

RELIGIOUS TONE

In all European countries creche displays have become a major part of the religious observance of the Christmas season.

They have given birth to an art that has created many types of beautiful figurines as a part of the exhibitions. Some of them have become quite famous. In France the little figures are called santons, meaning "little saints," and are meticulously moulded from a clay that is found in many of the country sections. The art of creating the santons is handed down from generation to generation, especially in Provence.

They are created in a variety of sizes both for indoor and outdoor display. Germany, Italy, Austria and other countries have also developed impressive art to enhance the Christmas Nativity displays.

In Oberammergau, Bavaria, scene of the famous Passion Play, the artisans fashion most of the German cribs that are used in so many of the creche scenes.

STATE DISPLAY

Many Pennsylvanians are familiar with the putzes which are displayed in the Bethlehem, Easton and Allentown areas where the Moravians settled. Moravian communities in other parts of the nation also have them. The word putz comes from an old German word, putzen, which means decoration. The putz is usually placed under the Christmas tree, but in many churches, schools and private homes the Nativity story is told in artistic layouts that sometimes occupy one or two rooms. They consist of carefully carved human figures and animals needed for the manger scenes. Stories of the Nativity are either placed on records or tapes and spotlights flash from one diorama to another as the story unfolds.

From these putzes developed much of the general use of Christmas manger displays in many parts of America.

SEMINARIANS DESIGN ALTAR

In keeping with the recent liturgical changes coming from the Vatican Council, several seminarians at Mt. St. Mary's College Seminary, Emmitsburg, have designed and built a new altar for the college's Chapel of the Immaculate Conception.

The new altar which was designed by Anthony DiLorenzo, a member of the First Theology Class and formerly a commercial artist, is primarily of wood construction blending with the chapel's architecture and paneling.

The actual blueprints were drawn by John Fenzel, also a First Theology student, a former civil engineer.

The altar is portable and allows the priest to offer the Mass facing the people.

The Most Rev. T. Austin Murphy, auxiliary bishop of Baltimore, has shown interest in the design for possible use in his own parish church, according to Rev. Thomas Stracke, a seminarian of that parish.

BLOODSTREAM TAKES BULLET TO MAN'S LUNG

ATLANTA (AP) — A 35-year-old man who accidentally shot himself in the thigh has had the bullet removed — from his lung.

The bullet, washed through the bloodstream, passed through his heart and into his lung.

Herbert Fowler, manager of a private club at Rome, Ga., underwent surgery last week at Emory University Hospital here, two weeks after accidentally shooting himself when his pistol fell out of his pocket.

Fowler, at the club when the accident occurred, received immediate treatment from his doctor. An X-ray showed the .22-caliber bullet lodged in his thigh and it was decided to leave it there where it was unlikely to do any harm.

SHARP, CHEST PAIN

Fowler then went back to work. Two weeks later he had sharp chest pains. He again consulted his doctor who X-rayed his chest. The doctor saw the same .22-caliber bullet, this time in Fowler's lung.

His surgeon, who declined to be named, said "the bullet must first have lodged near a large vein in Fowler's thigh. It then obviously worked itself into the vein and traveled the vein route with his blood all the way up through his heart and into the lung."

"It's a very unusual case," the doctor added. "Even more unusual than the case last week in Portland, Maine, in which a bullet traveled from a man's head into his heart, where it was removed. At least that bullet flowed down, with the pull of gravity."

FACULTY JOINS IN YULE DINNER

As a prelude to the Christmas holidays at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, the first faculty-student Christmas dinner was held Wednesday evening in the Cogan Union.

Under the sponsorship of the Student Council and chaired by senior representative Wayne M. Mascia, Short Hills, N. J., the program consisted of a family style dinner followed by a short program of comedy and song.

William F. Doyle, senior, Hadonfield, N. J., presented several comedy routines and the Blue Ridge Singers, W. Michael Bridge, Junior, Kittanning, Pa.; John F. McKee, Senior, Syracuse, N. Y., and Thomas E. Smith, Senior, Harleigh, Pa., entertained with their folk and nonsense songs.

Finally, Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus made an appearance with appropriate gifts for members of the faculty and administration.

The student holiday began Friday and will conclude Monday, January 4.

The annual faculty dinner-dance will be held this evening at 6 p.m. with the Joseph Dowling Orchestra of Baltimore furnishing the dancing music.

MISS S. BUCHER

seemingly capable only of receiving and not giving.

"BE A MOTHER"

"My work is to help two other girls of my own age, one Dutch and the other Austrian, to befriend these teen-agers, to awaken them in the morning, tuck them into bed at night, help mend their clothes, be happy or sad with them—in short be as much a mother to them as possible.

"But," she added, "the major part of our charges are anything but lovable. Their patterns of living have been well established by now and they aren't greatly influenced by the people with whom they work during the day. Yet on the other hand I am constantly amazed at little events which indicate that progress is being made."

FREE SUNDAY A MONTH

At the home for girls she had one free Sunday per month and each Tuesday free. She wrote that she visited several Brethren Student Volunteer Service members "who work at a home for retarded boys in a little town nearby. These fellows are working under almost impossible circumstances."

A graduate of Biglerville High School in 1959, she graduated from Elizabethtown College in 1963 and in 1963 completed a year's study at Marburg University in Germany. Shortly before her second departure for Europe last December, Miss Bucher attended a nine-week training period with 52 other Brethren Student Volunteers at New Windsor, Md., before going abroad.

Writing that she enjoys her work in Europe, she added that she is grateful that she is now located "twenty minutes by trolley" from Vienna, Austria, and as a result has been able to attend a number of performances of operas, symphonies, etc., in the city which is a great center of music."

The topic "The Family of Cheeses" was presented by Mrs. Helen Tunison, extension home economist. Cookies were exchanged. The next meeting will be held January 11 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Cameron Garretson, Flora Dale, when the subject will be "Fruits and Vegetables."

Robert Strine, Aspers R. D.; Charles Slonaker, Aspers; John Leeti, Biglerville R. 1; and James Young, Carlisle, attended the December meeting of the York Chapter, National Association of Accountants, held Wednesday evening in York.

Holly Asquith, Wilson College, Chambersburg, arrived Friday to spend the Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Asquith, Biglerville.

Families of the Biglerville Grange are asked to bring cookies to the Christmas party Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Grange Hall, near Heidlersburg.

Santa Claus will distribute treats to the children of the Biglerville community Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Biglerville fire house.

The Friendly Circle Sunday School Class of Christ Lutheran Church, Aspers, held a Christmas party Wednesday evening in the Biglerville Grange Hall. Forty-two members and guests were present for a gift exchange and program of games and recitations. Mrs. Edward Rothenhoefer, class teacher, received a lighted picture of "The Ascension" from class members. Mrs. O. D. Coble led devotions. Ceramic prizes, donated by Mrs. Paul Koutz, were won by Mrs. E. Eugene Pyles, Mrs. Bertha Strickhouse and Mrs. Barbara Baugher.

TIME RACES

Automatic appliances, dy-dee service and all the other innovations of the 20th century fail to leave most of us with any more time than our grandmothers had at Christmastime . . . perhaps not as much, and we foolishly seem to think that at the last minute we'll be granted some sort of reprieve . . . a time extension. Even Old St. Nick no longer takes the time to come down the chimney . . . he prefers to unload in the driveway—which has surely been shoveled—and keep his feet dry.

Local merchants have made these last few days easy. They'll be open from 9 to 9 daily from now through Christmas Eve. They've arranged free parking everywhere in town, and many are providing even the gift wrappings. So don't waste another minute.

Good luck and Merry Christmas!

State Gets Grant To Stop Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Welfare Department announced Friday award of $850,752 to 16 governmental agencies in 13 states to help control air pollution.

Included was a $56,800 grant to the Pennsylvania Health Department.

It is the second group of grants made under the Clean Air Act of 1963. The law permits the department to provide up to $2 for each $1 contributed by agencies serving single jurisdictions and up to $3 for each $1 contributed by those serving more than one.

JURY INDICTS POLICE OFFICER IN TAX EVASION

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Lawrence J. Maloney, who made headlines in the Pittsburgh area as head of a rackets squad called "Maloney's Marauders" and rose to become an assistant superintendent of city police, faces court action on six counts of income tax evasion.

Maloney, 53, was indicted Friday by a federal grand jury on charges of failing to report $230,000 in income for him and his wife, Nelsie, from 1958 through 1963.

TURNS IN BADGE

A few hours after the indictment, James J. Dillon, Pittsburgh safety director and Maloney's superior, suspended Maloney and ordered him to turn in his badge and gun.

U.S. Atty. Gustave Diamond and Cresson Davis, intelligence chief for the Internal Revenue Service here, declined to discuss Maloney's sources of income.

But Dillon issued a statement saying he had talked with Diamond and Davis and was informed "that these monies were received by Assistant Superintendent Maloney in his capacity as a police officer from individuals engaged in illegal enterprises."

According to the indictments, Maloney reported a total income of $84,296 for him and his wife for the six-year period. He paid taxes of $21,262.

The government contends the Maloneys' income from 1958 through 1963 was $315,170 and the taxes due total $132,805.

Maloney's police salary from 1958 through 1963 ranged from $7,543 to $8,717. His total police salary for the period was $49,662.

Maloney joined the police force in 1942 as a patrolman and was subsequently promoted to precinct detective and in 1946 to lieutenant.

From 1946 through 1949, Maloney headed a rackets squad— "Maloney's Marauders"— and appeared as a witness before a 1948 grand jury that investigated rackets in the Pittsburgh area.

He was promoted from inspector to assistant superintendent in 1952 and was in charge of the city's uniformed officers.

Lorne M. and Janet L. Lefever, Mt. Pleasant Twp., to Cletus L. Jr. and Norma I. Hull, Mt. Pleasant Twp., a property in Mt. Pleasant Twp. for $1,700.

FIRST FAMILY TO SPEND YULE IN TEXAS HOME

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is brimming over with the Christmas spirit. But soon the gaiety will be transferred to President Johnson's Texas Ranch, where the first family will spend most of the holiday season.

Friday night, Johnson and his closest kinfolk gathered in the circular park south of the White House as he pressed a button to light the 72-foot national community Christmas tree in windy, 25-degree weather.

Even as Johnson closed the electric circuit to illuminate the tree, the White House walls, gleaming in a fresh coat of paint, were bathed by floodlights. This was the first time since his economy-in-government campaign was launched a year ago that the executive mansion was so bright.

Just before the tree-lighting, the Johnsons were hosts to the children of White House staff members. And Sunday, White House correspondents and their families will drop by for a special holiday tour.

Then the President, his wife Lady Bird and daughters Lynda and Luci will be free to fly to their ranch.

In lighting the big national grove at Chestertown, N.Y., Johnson said the sky of the age is being brightened by a new star—the star of peace.

opens. Friday's announcement climaxed lengthy talks between the United States and Panama begun after the bloody anti-American riots there last January. Panama's president Marco A. Robles hailed it as "a historic day" for his country.

The announcement also marked a turning point in the years of deliberations over building a second trans-oceanic waterway for security and for the growing ship traffic already starting to clog the present canal. Johnson noted that 300 modern vessels which have been or are being built are too big to pass through the canal when loaded.

The broad aim of the U.S. move is thus to solve in a combined package both the recurrent political troubles with Panama and the physical need for a new canal. The new may cost $750 million.

Taneytown — The Volunteer Fire Company responded to eight fire calls and six ambulance calls in November according to reports made at a recent meeting in the fire house, at which the following officers were installed: President, W. F. Miller Jr.; vice president, Howard Welty; secretary, J. Wendell Garber; financial secretary, Jack Smith; treasurer, Harry Dougherty Jr.; chief, Raymond Feeser; trustee, Arvin Bollinger. Bills in the amount of $140.72 were approved for payment. Receipts were $1,958.05.

BOSS OF COSA NOSTRA ALIVE SAYS LAWYER

NEW YORK (AP) — The attorney for Cosa Nostra boss Joseph (Joe Bonanno) Bonanno says his client, who disappeared during a purported kidnapping on Park Avenue two months ago, is alive and will appear Monday before a federal grand jury.

The lawyer, William P. Maloney, told a news conference Friday that he received a telephone call shortly before noon from Bonanno's son, Salvatore.

"I was told," Maloney said, "that Bonanno is in good health, and that delighted me."

Maloney said he was present shortly after midnight last Oct. 21 when two gunmen forced the elder Bonanno into a car. He said one gunman fired a single shot at him before the auto sped away.

"FACED DEATH" Bonanno disappeared hours before he was to appear before a grand jury investigating organized crime.

Earlier this week, Hearst columnist Walter Winchell reported he had been told by underworld informants that Bonanno was well.

The columnist said Bonanno was kidnapped because the underworld feared that Bonanno might tell the grand jury, adding: "Bonanno faced death many times during his captivity and was finally spared only because of word from 'higher up' in Cosa Nostra."

Winchell said a condition of Bonanno's release was "that he's through in the rackets, and that his territory will be cut up among other Cosa Nostra chiefs."

That unity, but not uniformity, will be recognized in an effort to reach an ideal of "unity in essentials, difference in everything else."

That strength will be given to certain principles and doctrines which churches must communicate to the contemporary world.

That unwarranted duplications, especially in social policies, will be made unnecessary.

And that the "peace of our Lord Jesus Christ will be evidenced by this action."

They also said the move represents an act "of fraternal unity, for which the prayers, the support and the understanding of all men of good will are both asked and needed."

The fugitive, Richard Lee McArthur, 22, charged with armed robbery, slid down a bedsheet rope and escaped from the seventh-floor Sedgewick County Jail Dec. 5. Police had described him as "extremely dangerous with homicidal tendencies."

McArthur told police he picked the university campus as a place to hide occasionally, thinking no one would recognize him in student crowds.

Police got a tip, however, and patrolmen Jerry Skelton and Harry Holtz entered the fine arts building Friday looking for him.

They spotted McArthur, who bolted. The officers asked students in the crowded hall to help stop him.

"That guy's got a gun," one student said, backing off.

Now Judy Jerishin takes up the story:

"I had just finished my last class before Christmas vacation and was walking out of the fine arts building when a policeman entered hurriedly," she said. "I thought it was strange, but I

Today's Talk

RECHARGING

The human spirit gets low, just like the battery on one's car. It needs recharging at such a time. Inspirationally, let us say. That is the main purpose of any inspirational column.

Our mind needs periodic recharging in order to keep it alert and alive. So does the encouragement that we give to others — and so does daily prayer.

I shall never forget the kindness of a friend to whom I went when I became very discouraged, during my college career, and was about to give up and quit. I went to this man, and he so charged the battery of my spirit that I went back and finished my course.

How many a friend we have sought out, during a time of trouble, or confusion of mind, that we might have that friend recharge our spirit and set it functioning happily again. That is one of the high offices of a friend.

We move. We go forward with a full charged spirit. We then have power of mind and courage of heart. We can pick up passengers, as well, and give to them a recharged spirit, so effective in this personal recharging.

With a new recharged spirit we go to our work, with zest and hope, full of faith in the performance of our tasks, and enlivening, the spirit of everyone with whom we come in contact. It's a dark and gloomy day for that one whose spirit is run down, and sorely in need of recharging.

We can never measure the real worth of the encouragement that we give to others. Often it has lifted a burden and given new determination. Many a worker, through it, has climbed the heights. All great leaders have this gift of recharging the faith of their followers.

REMOUSE
Never in resentment bitter
Into temper let me fly,
Rather wait the moment fitter
To the challenge to reply.

This is weakness: to surrender
Sense and judgment to the foe
And by wrong which others
tender,
Thoughtlessly to fall as low.

This I ask when rage would shake me:
Judgment (howsoever inflamed)
Now to let some trifle make me
Later of myself ashamed.

Fires of temper let me smother
This the dearest shame I know—
That I've granted to another
Power that could upset me so!

SEEK FOUR NEW COLLEGE UNITS
IN WESTERN PA.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The State Council for Higher Education has been asked to establish four university branch campuses in Western Pennsylvania and give a state college university status.

Proposals presented Friday at the concluding session of hearings in Pittsburgh asked the council to approve branch campuses of Penn State University in Fayette, Beaver and Mercer Counties, of the University of Pittsburgh in Lawrence County and make Indiana State College a university.

Dr. Eric A. Walker, Penn State president, said the university "would plan to immediately get on with the task" of establishing the campuses "should this be in order."

Dr. Bennett M. Rich, president of Wayneburg College, said Wayneburg would close its Uniontown branch, which he said "constitutes a serious financial drain," as soon as the decision to establish a Penn State branch in Fayette County is made.

The chairman of the Beaver County Board of Commissioners, James E. Ross, said the county has set aside $200,000 for a Penn State branch in Monaca. If approval is given, he said, a building could be constructed for use by next September.

The third Penn State campus would be in Sharon and the Pitt of Allen C. Walter, 144 Chambersburg St., and Mrs. Bessie Martin, York, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. James Lutheran Church, Gettysburg. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

LIONS GATHER IN ANNUAL YULE
FAMILY NIGHT

LITTLESTOWN — The annual Christmas family night gathering was held by the Littlestown Lions Club Thursday evening in the Kingsdale Fire Company hall along the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd. Dinner was served to approximately 125 persons in attendance by the company auxiliary.

Yuletide selections were played by an instrumental group, composed of Sandra Crouse, Judy Kooz, Tony Wastler, Kenneth Myers, Gary Wintroe and Dale Starry Jr., local high school students, and Kenneth L. Kooz of the committee in charge of arrangements. The group also accompanied for carol singing led by Sterling J. Wisotzky, Santa Claus arrived and treated the boys and girls. Kenneth Eyer assisted Mr. Kooz with arrangements.

The Lions will gather for dinner on Thursday, January 7, at 6:30 p.m. in Schottie's Hotel and will then attend the community preaching mission service in a body. The club will have a regular meeting on January 21 at 7 p.m. at Schottie's.

SORORITY SUPPER

Eta Tau Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority had a holiday covered dish supper on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ray T. Harner, near town. Gifts were exchanged. Mrs. Richard N. Greenholt, president, presented the cultural program on "How Is Your Conversation?" Final plans were made for the members to entertain their children at a Christmas party on Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Gene R. Renner, Carroll St.

The next regular meeting of the sorority will be held Tuesday, January 24, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Bernard W. Little, W. King St. The cultural programs will be "Voice Vocabulary Reflection" by Mrs. Little and "You and Your Audience" by Mrs. Donald J. Becker.

CHILDREN'S PARTY

Over 30 persons were present at the annual Christmas party for the children of Faith United Church of Christ held Friday evening at the church. Games were played. Sunday School treats were distributed and refreshments were served. Mrs. Alice Breighner, Mrs. Parr R. Breighner, Mrs. Fred Crouse and Mrs. James Reichart assisted with the affair. Practice for the Sunday School Christmas program preceded the party. The program will be presented on Sunday at 10 a.m.

DAIRY FIRM ASKS
MILK PRICE CUT

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Milk Control Commission says it will resume hearings here Tuesday on proposed new pricing orders for the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre milk market in a area.

Louden Hill Farm of Dimock, Susquehanna County, which petitioned for lower prices in the six-county area, said it expected the commission to present its tentative pricing order at that time.

Louden Hill specifically asked that the gallon rate outside the stores be lower from $1 to 87 cents and that the half-gallon branch would be in Ellwood City.

The council, a department of the Pennsylvania Board of Education, has scheduled more hearings in Harrisburg and Philadelphia. It will use the data to compile a Master Plan for Education in Pennsylvania.

SAIGON POLICE ALERTED FOR WEEKEND FUSS

By PETER ARNETT
SAIGON, Viet Nam A.P. — Saigon police went on full alert today as a Communist Viet Cong anniversary and continued Buddhist harassment of the Vietnamese government threatened a weekend of violence.

High school students in the northern city of Hue went on an anti-government strike. Sunday is the fourth anniversary of the official founding of the political wing of the Viet Cong, the National Liberation Front, and authorities feared an outbreak of terrorism.

The Buddhists, who have been campaigning to overthrow the government of Premier Tran Van Huong, were planning a mass rally, police said. Buddhist sources said a monk might commit suicide by burning.

SANTA and the SINGING TURTLE

Synopsis: George clutches Womp's nose so hard he dislocates his own jaw and cannot speak or sing. Santa agrees to let Womp play his flute. George is unable to warn Santa of Womp's plan to put the whole of Fairyland to sleep.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN
GEORGE TALKS

Santa Claus led the fairies and the pixies and Storybook folk and all the visitors from the Animal Kingdom into the Fairy Queen's palace for lunch. They were as hungry as any creatures would be who had crept and danced all morning. They gobbled up the clover salad, the corn and mushroom and pineapple sandwiches, the pecan pudding and peanut butter ice cream. Between courses they talked over the morning's performances and argued about who was best.

QUIET AT FEAST

Only two were quiet at the feast. One was Womp, the man-witch, who sat alone at a corner table nursing his bruised nose while he planned the tune he would play on his flute in the afternoon.

The other quiet one was Santa Claus. He toyed with his food and could not make any conversation at all. He was troubled by all that happened. He felt in his bones that something was wrong. "What was it?" he wondered, "that George wanted to say?"

NEW IMPERSONATION

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bobby Dickie, 33, quit his job as a trash collector in 1958. But he got nostalgic for old times and went soliciting Friday night for Christmas donations" by posing as a trash man, police said.

A suspicious resident called police after he thought Dickie's pitch sounded strange. Result: He was arrested and charged with impersonating a trash collector.

Cambodians extract nectar for sugar from the flowers of toddy palms. Harvesters scramble up rickety 59-foot poles to collect the flower juice in bamboo pails.

A city of tents mushroomed near the sprawling Buddhist headquarters as thousands of potential demonstrators began arriving, some carrying straw sleeping mats.

Americans in Saigon were advised to exert unusual caution when in the city. In Hue, several thousand students in the city's 13 high schools made a brief appearance at classes today but told their teachers they would not return until the Huong government resigned. No violence was reported.

Hue, a Buddhist stronghold, sparked the campaign that overthrew the regime of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem last year. In the war against the Viet Cong, an American army officer was killed by guerrilla fire Friday, the U. S. Army said. He was the 236th American to die in combat in Viet Nam since December, 1961.

Before George could groan again the Snowman dashed away to the dining room and snatched a pepper shaker right from under the nose of Womp, the manwitch. When he ran back out Womp got up and followed.

"I bet this works!" cried the Snowman, running back to the turtle with the pepper shaker.

Tomorrow: The Fire

The manwitch sat alone at a corner table.

George looked up and saw Womp behind the Snowman. He arched over his head and poked at the manwitch's feet crying "Ahhhhh!" The Snowman looked at Womp and he looked at Womp's feet and he saw at last what George had been trying so long to tell him.

"The Prince's shoes!" he cried. "Why he has on the Prince's shoes!"

He was so surprised he dropped the pepper shaker. It crashed on George's back, spraying pepper over George's head.

"Kerchew!" went George. And so violent was the sneeze his jaw sprang back into place! "Warn Santa!" he gasped as soon as he could speak. "He bewitched the Prince and he plans to bewitch Santa, too!"

"Good gracious!" gasped the Snowman, too astonished to move.

RUSHES TO PALACE
George rushed off towards the palace but though his feet were running he wasn't getting anywhere. Womp had leaned down and picked him up by the tail. "I arrived just in time," said Womp. "It is fortunate I had finished my lunch. Now it is my turn to tweak noses."

He reached out and grabbed the dumbfounded Snowman. Then he marched off into the woods carrying George upside down by the tail and leading the Snowman by his carrot nose.

Warriors Down Susquenita Handily 52-41; Big Spring Here On Tuesday Evening

A big second period in which they outscored their opponents 16-4 carried the Gettysburg High Warriors to a 52-41 victory over the Susquenita Blackhaws at Perdue Friday evening in a Blue Mountain Basketball League game.

The Warriors encountered trouble in getting underway in the first period and late in the period fell behind 7-6 on a goal by Slood. Dick Finkbner's twin-punter sent Gettysburg to the front at 8:7 just before the end of the quarter after which it was never headed. Tony Bushey, who wound up with 13 points, got the only other goal of the quarter which put the locals ahead early at 4-0.

BUILD BIG LEAD

Rad Schultz opened the second frame with a goal and Slood converted a foul for the home team. Two goals by Bushey, another by Kit Richardson and a pair of free tosses by Denny Herring made it 18-8 before Slood rimmed a foul for the Hawks. After Herring netted a goal, Bob Fortenbaugh landed the lone goal of the quarter for Susquenita. Richardson and Bushey hit for Gettysburg to give the Warriors a commanding 24-11 at half time.

The teams matched scoring throughout the third period when Denny Herring landed a trio of goals, Schultz two and Richardson one for Gettysburg. Fortenbaugh swished three for the Hawks. Going into the final round the Warriors were on top 36-22.

Early goals by Charley Raffensperger and Bushey gave Coach Merrill Eckhart's squad its biggest lead at 40-23. Susquenita spurred mildly midway on nine points via goals by Carnahan, Gers and Slood, plus a foul by the latter, and a goal by Mike Maugans to cut the edge to 42-32 before Herring ripped through a pair of goals and Richardson and Chris Folkemer one each to make it 50-36 and sew up the outcome.

Gettysburg's 21 goals came mostly on short attempts with Herring and Bushey providing the bulk of the attack with 14 and 13 points, respectively. Fortenbaugh of the losers was high man for the evening with 17.

SCRUBS WIN ON RALLY

The unbeaten Warrior reserves trailed throughout the first three periods and then rallied sensationally in the final quarter to gain a 31-23 decision for their fourth straight triumph. Going into the last quarter the Warriors were on the short end of a 25-18 count.

A big test awaits Gettysburg here Tuesday evening when Big Spring will provide the opposition. Both at 3-1 in the league.

CHAMBERSBURG HANDS DELONE FIRST DEFEAT

The Delone Catholic High School basketball team succumbed to a powerful second half surge by the Valley Trojans of Chambersburg and thus suffered their first setback of the season by the tune of 38-37 Friday evening on the Squires' court.

It was the meeting of the undefeated and the contest gave the fans plenty of action from start to finish. Delone managed to finish the first period in a 19-12 lead as both teams were just getting warmed up. Chambersburg came back in the second period to take the honors and held a slim 34-32 advantage by intermission.

TROJANS TAKE OVER

However, in the third and fourth periods, the powerful Trojans went to work outscoring the Squires 26-15 and 26-20, respectively, in the last two frames.

Jim Roth's fine 24-point performance sparked the Squires. Chambersburg sent four men into double figures with Keyser Crittendon collecting 21, Junie Reese and Phil Staub contributed 10 tallies apiece for the Squire cause.

Delone is now 3-1 on the season while Chambersburg continues the clean path with a 5-0 mark. Coach J. T. Flaherty's cagers have another crushing assignment Tuesday when they take on the fast-stepping Middletown High team at Middletown.

Tom Staub's Delone jayvees gave the Chambersburg reserves a good battle before dropping an exciting 62-60 overtime decision in the preliminary contest. The Little Squires are even at 2-2 on the season.

Foth Lends Big Shark In Contest

Bart Foth, Gettysburg, landed a 54-pound eight-ounce shark recently in the fly casting division of the annual Islamorada Fishing Tournament at Islamorada in the Florida Keys.

The tournament runs from April 20 to December 12 and is open to all anglers throughout the country. Foth's catch came on the last day of the tourney.

SAMMY BAUGH QUILTS OILERS FOR RANCHING

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Sammy Baugh has quit as head football coach of the Houston Oilers to spend more time on his west Texas ranch because "I'm happier there."

Baugh's successor will be the fifth head coach in six seasons for the American Football League entry — a turnover unmatched in pro football.

The Houston Post said his successor was expected to be Hugh (Bones) Taylor, Oilier backfield coach. The Post also said Lou Rymkus, former Oilier head coach, would be rehired as an offensive line coach.

TAYLOR WANTS JOB

Taylor, 41, one of the National Football League's all-time great pass receivers, said "I have not discussed the coaching situation with Oilier officials." But he indicated he would like to have the job.

Taylor played for nine years with the Washington Redskins, and during that time was the favorite target of Baugh's passes. He also was assistant coach under Baugh in 1960 with the New York Titans.

Baugh, 58, had insisted that running his 6,355-acre ranch interfered with his duties as head coach.

The former Texas Christian University and Redskin passing star quit after signing a new one-year contract only two months ago.

The Hall of Fame quarterback compiled a 3-10 record, worst showing since the club was founded, with the season finale against Denver to be played Sunday.

Shula And Collier To Coach Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Shula, pilot of the Baltimore Colts and the National Football League's Coach of the Year, and Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns were named Saturday to coach the Western and Eastern teams in the Pro Bowl game here Jan. 10.

Shula's Colts, winner of the Western Division title, and Collier's Eastern Division champs, meet in the NFL championship Dec. 27 in Cleveland.

It will be the first head coaching job in the Pro Bowl for both men.

The two squads are due to report in Los Angeles a week after the NFL title game.

TRAINER SAYS BONAVENTA IS LIKE MARCIANO

NEW YORK (AP) — Argentine Oscar Bonavena is only eight fights deep into his professional boxing career and he's already being compared to Rocky Marciano — and the comparison is made by a man who knows.

Charley Goldman, who trained the undefeated former heavyweight champ, now trains Bonavena.

"This guy is a better boxer than Rocky was at the same stage of his career," Goldman said Friday night after Bonavena had scored his eighth straight victory. "But Rocky was a better puncher."

LEARNING FAST

"But this kid is only 22 and is learning fast. Rocky was 25 by the time he had his eighth pro fight."

Billy Stephen of Hollywood, Calif., who was the victim of a sixth round technical knockout at the hands of the husky, long-haired Argentine, agreed.

Bonavena, an ardent Beale fan who wears his hair as long as his heroes, was a highly convincing victor over Stephan.

THE CHRISTMAS STORY

by Fulton Oursler

This is the third of seven chapters which will tell anew the romance and glory of the events leading to a birth nearly 2,000 years ago which will be celebrated once again next week throughout the Christian world. It is a human, humble story and might well be read aloud at family gatherings.

Chapter 3 THE UNKNOWN MESSENGER

Then suddenly Zachary came out in a wild rush from the sanctuary, and something very serious was wrong with him — the whole multitude could see that. Swaying dizzily down the twelve steps, he staggered to the rim of the open part of the altar.

As Zachary tottered there, Annas, the high priest, leaped forward and put strong arms around him. In the stillness of the sunset air they could all hear the crisp voice of Annas asking for an explanation. But Zachary, cheeks pale, eyes glittering, hair matted, could only stamp his right foot and wave his arms in frantic movements, pointing to his open mouth as if he had swallowed the mystery and therefore could make no sound.

There was nothing to be done but for Annas to leave him standing there while he as high priest, took over the service. Not until they were back home in Ain Karim did Zachary divulge the facts. He sat at the table, motioning for parchment and quills; Zachary would talk with them by writing; the first great fact was that he had been stricken dumb.

THE MYSTERY REVEALED
Slowly, and forming the inky characters with great exactitude so that his meaning could not possibly be mistaken, Zachary wrote on the parchment:

"I have been listening to an angel! I entered the sanctuary. A figure was standing there. He stood with folded wings and looked at me. I was terribly frightened and almost dropped the censor. My brain felt numb. My body was cold. My knees

"I can guess how you felt, beloved," urged Elizabeth. "But did the angel speak to you?"

Zachary bent over the parchment.

"He spoke in a deep tone unlike any voice I ever heard, and he said: 'Fear not, Zachary. Your prayer is heard!'"

A chill went down the spine of Elizabeth; her thoughts whirled. Could it have been the secret prayer that Zachary had made just before he mounted the twelve steps? The old man was still writing.

Portrait of St. Elizabeth
A modern adaptation of the original painting attributed to the Dutch school in the fifteenth century.

"Your wife, Elizabeth, shall bear you a son. And you shall call his name John."

"John!" cried Elizabeth. "John! John! That means the gracious gift of God!"

Zachary nodded to her. And he wrote again:

"And you shall have joy and gladness. Many shall rejoice in his nativity and he shall be great before the Lord. He shall drink no wine or strong drink and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost."

Zachary's hand stopped, the same question agitating all. What could those queer words mean: The boy was to be 'filled with the Holy Ghost?' None of them knew.

The angel went right on to predict that the son of Elizabeth and Zachary would grow up to bring many of the people of the country to the worship of the Lord their God. More, the angel declared that John, who was yet to be born, would have the spirit and power of the ancient prophet Elias. At this the others could keep quiet no longer.

"Do you realize what you are writing?" gasped Elizabeth. But the speechless priest was writing furiously:

"I mean what I say. Every word of it. I saw the angel. I heard his voice. Once and for all I insist that you remain quiet and hear the whole story. The winged messenger finished his first remarks with these words: 'He shall turn the hearts of fathers unto their children and the incredulous to the wisdom of the just, to prepare unto the Lord a perfect people.'"

"Then I felt a little better because I recognized the quotation. It was from the Book of Malachi, but here I made a serious blunder. Since the familiar quotation made me feel more at ease, I suppose I lost a little of the awe I felt. I am afraid I was a little disrespectful. At least I plucked up enough courage to speak for the first time and asked him a question. I spoke with great humility but I felt I had a right to know, and so I simply asked: 'Whereby shall I know this? For I am an old man and my wife is advanced in years.'"

"And what did he say to that Zachary?" The words burst uncontrollably from Elizabeth.

"He answered me at once," wrote Zachary. "He simply said that he was Gabriel."

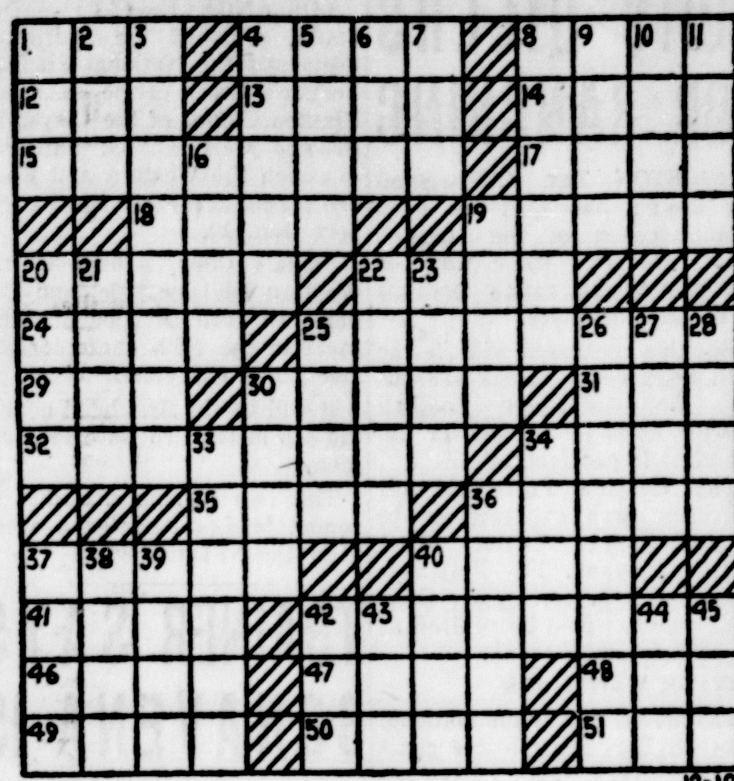

Gabriel! Gabriel was the celestial messenger who had visited the prophet Daniel — one of the four archangels of the heavenly host.

Zachary continued writing. "He told me that he stood before God habitually and that he had been sent to the holy place just to bring me these glorious tidings. But his manner was much more serious and revering now, let me tell you. He had not liked my doubts. 'Behold, you are dumb,' he said to me. And he said I was not going to be allowed to speak again until the day when these things come to pass 'because,' he added, 'you have not believed my words.'"

"I closed my eyes and prayed a moment. When I opened them again, the angel was gone."

Late into the night they talked the marvel over. Elizabeth found

Priest To Assist Episcopal Rite

PALMYRA, Mo. (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest will read the litany today at the ordination of an Episcopal priest.

"It is only in recent years that anything like this could have happened," said the Rt. Rev. George L. Cadigan, Episcopal bishop of Missouri. "I don't know if a Roman Catholic taking part in the ceremony is a precedent—but it could be."

The Rev. Richard H. Baker, 27, now an Episcopal deacon, it hard to believe it was anything more than the phantasy of a sick and tormented mind.

Joseph kept his own counsel, and no one asked Mary what she thought. But before they went to bed Mary said to Elizabeth:

"Cousin dear, you have prayed a long time. I believe in your prayers, Elizabeth. Why should we be surprised if God has heard them and will answer them? Why not wait and believe?"

And that, as time was soon to prove, was the wisest thing said in the family that night.

Over the months the exciting episode receded in their minds until one day, by caravan messenger, a note was brought to Anna.

"Peace be with you, my beloved one," Elizabeth had written. "God has heard our prayers, indeed, and the promise of the holy archangel is fulfilled. Anna, my darling aunt, listen and tell Joachim and dear Mary and that fine young man, Joseph — listen, beloved — at my age I am going to have a child!"

(Condensed from the book The Greatest Story Ever Told, by Fulton Oursler, published by Doubleday. Copyright 1949 by Fulton Oursler.)

will be ordained a priest by Bishop Cadigan. The Rev. John Schultz, of St. Pius X Roman Catholic Parish at Moberly, Mo., will read the litany.

Clergymen from other churches in this northeast Missouri town of 2,933 also were invited to take part in the service at St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Southern Baptists, Assembly of God and Disciples of Christ ministers, Methodists, other Roman Catholics and Presbyterians accepted.

THIS 30-SECOND TEST COULD CHANGE YOUR FUTURE

- Are you of mature judgement?
- Are you a high school graduate?
- Are you married?
- Do you want to be in business for yourself?
- Do you want to be able to organize your own time?
- Do you want to be in a growing business?
- Do you want to be associated with a world leader?
- Do you enjoy meeting new people?
- Have you reached the salary ceiling in your present job?
- If your answers are yes, you may be interested in a lifetime career opportunity with one of the largest insurance companies in America.
- If you are selected, you will be given complete on-the-job training in a program which is considered one of the best in the insurance industry. It includes field work, study courses, as well as formal schooling. Through this program, men without any prior experience have become some of State Farm's most successful agents.
- You would be representing one of America's largest insurance organizations... specially trained to serve the car, life and fire insurance needs of the vast middle-income market.

Most Families Purchase Cut Trees For Christmas; Others Buy "Living" Trees In Soil

THOMAS E. PIPER
Adams County Farm Agent

Nearly four-fifths of families purchase trees between December 10 and 19, and as most everyone suspects, cut trees account for nine-tenths of the selection. Other types of trees purchased are living trees with a ball of soil around the roots, sprayed or painted trees and artificial trees.

Thomas E. Piper

A choice of type tree wanted is the first decision to make.

After this first decision, a choice between the various species of cut trees is uppermost. Unless the tree retailer has a very complete selection, chances are you'll have a choice of Scotch pine, Norway spruce or balsam fir. The Scotch pine holds its needles best, has sharp needles 1 1/2 to three inches in length, and will probably be dense and bushy. The Norway spruce has thick, short, sharp needles, one inch or less in length and holds its spirally arranged needles poorly. Balsam fir has 1-inch flat waxy needles in rows of two on the twigs and holds its needles well, if freshly cut.

Choice may depend on other characteristics of aroma, color, taper and defects apparent on the tree.

Four other species of trees, all pines, in addition to Scotch pine, hold needles excellently, are probably freshly cut from Christmas tree plantations in Pennsylvania, and have been sheared by growers for a pleasing appearance and good density. The white spruce is similar to Norway spruce. Douglas fir, a newcomer, is similar to balsam but will probably be more dense and fresher because it is grown in Pennsylvania plantations. Balsam grows wild, is cut very early, and is shipped in from New England and Canada.

GROWTH IMPORTANT

A good time for dairymen to check their heifers' growth rate is when they are being brought into the barn for winter. Heifers that are a year old are just about halfway to freshening age, and they should almost be large enough to be bred.

If heifers have failed to grow as rapidly as they should, due to poor pasture or other reasons, there is still time to do something about it. First, determine whether they are growing at a normal rate. Compare their weights, estimated by means of a cattle tape, with the normal growth chart which can be obtained from the county agent's office. If they are under size, they should be given an opportunity to catch up during the next few months.

This indicates a good feeding program needs to be built around all the good quality hay the heifers can eat. There should be enough grain to maintain rapid growth without becoming fat. It is a good idea to have a veterinarian check them for internal parasites, as this is often a reason for retarded growth.

Well-grown heifers make the most profitable cows. They can freshen at an earlier age, produce more milk and are less apt to be hampered by diseases.

LAMB CARE

A profitable lamb and wool program depends upon proper winter care of the flock. A good shepherd will include housing, feeding, management and parasite control in his program, because all are important if he expects to have strong lambs at birth, and ewes with adequate milk supplies.

BRITISH DELAY PAYMENTS ON POSTWAR DEBT

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
LONDON (AP) — Britain announced Friday postponement of installment payments totaling $175.8 million—due at the year-end—on postwar American and Canadian loans.

The action was disclosed by Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan in this written answer to a House of Commons questioner:

"The government have decided to take advantage of the deferment provision in the financial agreements dated March 6, 1957, in respect of the 1964 installments and have advised the two governments accordingly."

Under the 1957 arrangement, the British have the right to postpone installments of principal and interest repayments on the loans. These installments then are to be tacked on to the end of the period of the loan, which now runs to 2002.

Britain's seriously adverse trade balance is the reason for the labor government's decision to defer the installments.

The American-Canadian loans for postwar reconstruction altogether involved more than $4.8 billion.

The United States and Canada are understood to have accepted Friday's decision. It is the third postponement of interest and principal payments since 1957.

herd will include housing, feeding, management and parasite control in his program, because all are important if he expects to have strong lambs at birth, and ewes with adequate milk supplies.

Ewes should gain 15 to 30 pounds during the pregnancy period. Basic feed for winter feeding is an adequate supply of high quality legume hay. A valuable addition to winter roughage is small grain pasture.

A ewe flock receiving high quality winter roughage, should receive grain four to six weeks before lambing, about one-half pound per day. After lambing, increase grain feeding to one or 1 1/2 pounds per day until ewes have access to good pasture. Ewes with twin lambs should be separated and fed a more liberal amount of grain.

A good grain mixture is three parts whole oats, two parts whole corn and one part wheat bran, by weight.

If the winter ration consists of grass hay or corn silage, a mixture high in calcium is essential. Any simple mixture, such as steamed bone meal, ground limestone and salt, mixed equal part, should be available at all times, in addition to plain salt and plenty of fresh water.

Bank Robber Flees, Leaves $5 Decoy

NEW YORK (AP) — The Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. is $5 richer today because a man tried to rob one of its Manhattan banks.

The would-be robber put a $5 bill on the counter of teller Agnes De Martini Thursday and handed her a note reading: "This is a stickup. Give me all the money. Don't try to be a hero."

"Stickup!" screamed Miss De Martini.

The robber fled, minus his $5.

PIRATE RADIO OPERATOR DIES IN CHOPPY SEA

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — The body of a British radio pirate washed ashore Thursday night and two of his employees were missing, less than 12 hours after the Dutch shut down a pirate radio-TV station off their coast.

The dead man was Harry Featherbee, a 38-year-old British fisherman who operated Radio Invicta from an abandoned World War II anti-aircraft fort off the British oyster town of Whitstable. His body washed ashore in the Thames estuary.

Disc jockey Simon Ashley, 21, and radio engineer David Shaw, 18, were missing.

The three men set out in a 36-foot motor launch in choppy, gale-swept waters from Radio Invicta's island Wednesday. That was the last seen of them until Featherbee's body floated in from the sea. Wreckage from the launch also washed ashore.

Europe's government broadcasting monopolies, which don't carry advertising, have resulted in a flock of pirate stations, all off the coasts just outside territorial waters and all selling advertising time. Five are off Britain, playing for the British audience.

Missing from the air today was radio-TV station Nordzee (North Sea), which broadcasted from an artificial island off the Dutch coast. The Dutch parliament adopted legislation extending the ban on commercial broadcasting to the island. Police and sailors raided the artificial island Thursday and closed the station.

When you invest in kitchen utensils, buy those that suit the size of your family and your particular needs. A widely available food mill, for example, comes in both 3/4-quart and 2-quart sizes.

Gov. Mendez Suffers Fatal Heart Attack

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP) — The sheriff's office said Gov. Eligio Esquivel Mendez of Mexico's Baja California died here Thursday night after suffering an apparent heart attack. He was 55.

Sheriff-Coroner Herbert Hughes said Esquivel became ill at an El Centro restaurant and was driven to a motel by his chauffeur. When he arrived at the motel, he was having trouble breathing and the driver attempted to call his physician but could not locate him, the sheriff said.

Fire department efforts to revive the governor were not successful.

"From what I can gather, he had just decided to take a ride," Hughes said of Esquivel's presence in El Centro.

His residence is in Mexicali, the capital of Baja California.

"Something Old, Something New" On TV Shows Christmas

By: RUTH E. THOMPSON

Is there a Santa Claus? Virginia, you just better believe it baby. There'd have to be re-assemble "Kukla, Fran and Ollie" — a favor often pleaded for and long ignored. And either you (or NBC) is being very good indeed . . . because they'll be around for two hours on the "Today's program Christmas morning while you unwrap the loot.

But as it turns out, this is only one treat in a week that finds the networks outdoing themselves with a meld of new and old; of Biblical, Old English and contemporary paens to Christmas.

BING TO SING

Typical of the "new" is Bing Crosby singing "White Christmas" in the holiday edition of his weekly ABC situation comedy (Monday, December 21, 9:30 to 10 p.m.) Yes "new." In all the millions of times the beloved Binge has sung the beloved modern carol . . . it seems he's never specifically beamed it on "a Christmas TV show." (Yes, yes, Virginia, he has done it on radio. Yes, yes! On television? No, not until this week.) There will, as a matter of fact, be very little of the fictional "Bing Collins" this season . . . as a welcome program of carols, 10 in all, fills the air.

Meanwhile, the same "White Christmas" will be getting a going-over by another velvet-voiced chap on NBC . . . because Andy Williams has chosen it to highlight the annual reunion of the Williams Brothers, Dick, Don and Bob. Tagging along will be Andy's kid sister, Janie. As usual, this Christmas edition of the Andy Williams Show (Monday, December 21, 9 to 10 p.m., will be colorcast. In addition to the family two other singing groups, the Osmond Brothers and the Young Americans, will be joining in the choraling. Senor Wences, virtuoso ventriloquist, will have his Johnny and Pedro creations in good voice, for a couple of duets with Andy.

It took Christmas to reunite "Kukla, Fran and Ollie" and the new illustrious Hugh Downs, host of "Today," who made his network debut from Chicago as announcer for the famous puppets. They'll be all live on December 25 (7 to 9 a.m.) on the Christmas Day edition of "Today." (From the left, Hugh Downs, Kukla, Budd Tilletson, creator of the Kuklapetians, and Ollie.)

REPEATS POPULAR

Newest to join the growing list of requested repeats is "The Story of Christmas," first presented last year, with Tennessee Ernie Ford as narrator and featured singer. It will be seen this year — in color — on NBC Monday, December 21, 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Written by Charles Tazewell, author of "The Littlest Angel," the show finds Ernie turning his attention to groups of children who sing about the Christ child in their native tongues. The singing of carols — 15 in all — sung by Ernie and the Wagner Chorale will finale with "Silent Night."

4 P.M. SUNDAY

At the opposite end of the seniority rating is "Amahl and the Night Visitors" unchallenged leader in the "television classics field." Set this year for showing Sunday afternoon, December 20, 4 p.m.) this original opera composed by Gian Carlo Menotti — and commissioned by NBC — is being seen and heard for the 15th time, and the half-dozen production. This year's presentation will be a repeat of the production of 1963 in which Menotti himself recommended the boy soprano . . . and where it turned out to be a race against time to get the work completed before Kurt Yagh-jian's voice changed. The story of the crippled boy with the crabby mother who sees "the star" has — in its decade and a half of existence — also become the darling of both professional and amateur singing groups the world over for presentation in theaters and auditoriums.

Also to be seen again — for the fourth time — is NBC's "Coming of Christ" which has been hailed as one of telements, "a masterpiece . . . a classic." The Project 20 color production, narrated by Alexander Scourby, will be seen from 8:30 - 9 p.m. Monday, December 21. The script is almost wholly in the words of the Bible. The visual portion is described as utilizing "a strikingly realistic still-pictures-in-action technique that brings to life some 300 masterpieces of paintings of the late Middle Ages and the Renaissance, works drawn from 50 museums, churches and private collection in a dozen countries."

TRAPP FAMILY

Baroness Maria Von Trapp, who together with her 10 children made concert stage history as a singing group, will be Christmas Eve hostess (on CBS 11:30 to midnight) to her family's current counterparts, the Burke Family Singers. The locale will be the Trapp Family lodge in Stowe, Vt., now a resort and the first home in America of the Trapp whose story has been celebrated on Broadway and in movies as "The Sound of Music." Natives of Providence, R. I., the 10 members of the Burke family sing in eight languages. Both sacred and traditional songs will be presented during the program.

On Tuesday (December 22, 10 p.m.) beautiful redhaired film star Maureen O'Hara will hostess the 1964 Christmas edition of the Bell Telephone Hour. She will also narrate the St. Luke Gospel account of the Nativity and lend her accomplished soprano to traditional songs.

Also starred will be Baritone Howard Keel, Martha Wright and Phyllis Curtin.

Of the weekly situation series it's about even between those who will — and those who won't — be marking a Yule mood during the week.

Some who are:

"Petticoat Junction" (CBS, 9:30, December 22) — nasty Homer tries to scuttle Kate's plans to decorate that Hooterville Cannonball. And another solve-it-all fem me, "Hazel" (NBC, 9:30, December 24) tries to squelch another Scrooge (her boss, George). And animated stone-age Fred Flintstone knows what time it is. 7:30 p.m. (on ABC) finds him as a department store Santa Claus. And Virginia, if you're bewildered when you hear what's happening on "Be-witched," well don't let it bother you. For even a modern witch can have a soft heart. And Elizabeth "Samantha" Montgomery apparently does, because she's flying two kids (via broomstick?) to the North Pole to wipe out their Santa Claus' doubts.

FILIPINOS FAIL TO FIRE SCHOOL

MANILA (AP) — Two Filipinos tried unsuccessfully to bomb an elementary school for children of American servicemen at the U.S. Clark Air Base, a U. S. embassy source said Friday.
The explosive, a 57mm shell, failed to go off, the source said. The Filipinos escaped.
The source said 750 children were in the school at the time of the incident Thursday.
It was believed the Filipinos were angered by the killing of a two of their countrymen who trespassed on American bases in recent weeks, one at Clark and the other at the Subic Bay Naval Base.

Meanwhile, President Diosdado Macapagal was quoted as saying negotiations will be resumed with the United States for revision of the two countries' military bases agreement.
The question of criminal jurisdiction over crimes involving American servicemen is pending in the talks, which began in 1956.
The embassy source said American bases in the Philippines have a major problem of security although there has been no established case of sub-

ELECTRIC LIVING GUIDE

As rights reserved by G. E. Electric Co., Inc., New York

"ICING" CAN BE GOOD HEAT CLUE

"Grandma Moses herself couldn't have made that roof look more picturesque than the first time we saw what's now our house.

"Funny. We thought it looked just charming and cozy with that blinding second-day snow on the roof.

"Get the picture?" asked my real estate minded father-in-law. "There's a real house. Well-built. The snow's just going to have to slip off in its own good time. There's no wasted interior heat seeping up and out. This kind of insulation and performance is what I've come to expect of houses with electric heating systems."

"If that's what's known as a meddling relative, give me more of them," comments the junior executive who's now living like a king.

"We've been married three years, this is our first house and it's great. From the way things usually go in my company I'd say we won't be staying here more than three years, five at the most. That's about the average for ramblers. But when the next house does become a cause for shopping around again, whether it's near here or clear across the country, you can just bet it's going to have a complete electrical heating system too. Marge and I aren't going back to the primitive business my folks have been struggling along with.

"Pops pointed out another thing, too. When Auf Wiedersehn time comes along this little home sweet home of ours will bring in a nice sum toward the next one.

"Why? Well it seems that, in addition to the 'most' in luxurious comfort, electric heating systems, equipment-wise, are the most durable available. They don't deteriorate, hence there's no appreciable depreciation."

And according to an electrical association, the young man and his Marge will find an increasingly large selection of electrical-living houses anywhere in the country . . . and anywhere in their price range, whatever it may be from the most modest to the most lavish.

QUESTION BOX

Q. Which is the better for an electrically heated house, clapboard or brick?

A. Doesn't matter. What really counts is what's in between like the filling in a sandwich. In other words do you have just a "scraping on" of insulation, as it were, or do you have something of adequate thickness. Experienced builders of electric living houses, you'll find, work hand in glove with electrical contractors to see that the quality of house's construction partners with the quality of the electrical heating so it is utilized with maximum efficiency.

Q. Are there any charts I can send for that will give the specifications of electrical heating unit types and sizes per square foot of room space?

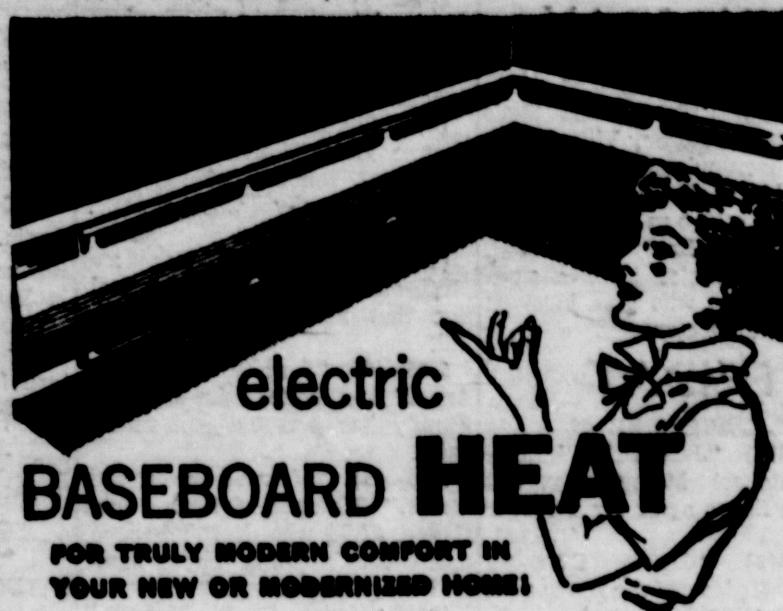

A. To our knowledge no, or at least not for the layman. Furthermore, actual installation costs for electrical equipment is considered low . . . and you get both the science and experience of somebody who knows what he's doing. Better to use that do-it-yourself instinct on some other household project. Electric heating when installed by a professional gives such trouble-free service that most users don't know what it means to holler for the maintenance man.

Q. In what part of the country have the most all-electric homes been built?

A. Almost anywhere in the United States electrically-heated houses are being built. Pretty hard in such a fast-growing picture to single out any single locale.

Q. Does the change-over to electric heat mean one would have to be discreet in the use of other appliances like a washer not to keep blowing fuses?

A. Quite the contrary. When an older house is converted to electric living—including electricity as the sole source of fuel—properly done heavy housepower wiring provides such a sufficiency of circuits that you won't even experience the old shrinkage of the TV picture. Furthermore, if the conversion work is done in accordance with Gold Medallion standards there'll be enough circuits to provide years ahead for things that haven't even been invented yet.

Carry cozy warmth wherever you go, den game room, living room, with lightweight portable (yes, good looking) Chromalox electric baseboard heaters. Plugs into any 120 volt outlet, built-in thermostat indicator light, handy on-off switch. Compact 4-foot lengths.

HAYES RETURNS ON 'ALUMNI FUN'

"Alumni Fun" will return to television in January for a third season with a new host, Peter Lind Hayes.

As in the past, the series will be a Sunday afternoon feature. This marks "Alumni Fun's" second season on CBS.

Former hosts were John K. M. McCaffrey and Clifton Fadiman.

The object of the game is to raise funds for scholarship programs. Two teams of three players each compete for the honor of their alma maters.

As in the past the requirement for players is that they be "prominent in show business, politics, government, the law, science, business, the arts of sports."

Questions fall into seven categories: "The arts, history, business, sports, people, places and literature."

Something Old

fiction switch is the story behind the usually slick Tony Franciosa "Valentine's Day" (ABC, December 25). Producer Hal Kantor commissioned a Christmas story by Irene Winston expecting a glib comedy. As she saw it, Val tried to befriend a lonely boy, was charged by the child's mother with invasion of privacy. Kantor tried to get Miss Winston to make it more upbeat, but she wouldn't. They went along with her instead. It turned out to be her last script. She died in September.

Coverage of actual Christmas church services has become one of television's brightest honors. Among those scheduled are Christmas Eve service from the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City (ABC, 11:15 to midnight); Lutheran Services from New York City (Midnight, CBS); Christmas Eve Mass from the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, Washington, D.C. (Midnight, ABC); Midnight Mass from St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York (NBC, Midnight); and the Christmas Day Service from Washington Cathedral (December 25, NBC, 12:30 P.M.).

SEE'S SON OPENING

Lovey Irene Hervey planing in from Hollywood to catch Jack Jones's opening at New York's posh Persian Room at the Hotel Plaza. He is the son of her long-ago marriage to singer Alan Jones. She's now a regular member of the cast of the ABC daytime serial "The Young Marrieds."

Begin Selection Of Year's Best Yarns

It's getting to be that time of year when the news analysts gather from the far corners of the world and fly home to their respective networks for the summing up of a year just ending and some crystal-balling.

Before the new lists are compiled might be the moment to give a backward glance. The national tragedy of President Kennedy's death of course, overshadowed all other 1963 events. The other major events of the year were: The Civil Rights march on Washington; the nuclear test ban treaty; the coup d'etat in Viet Nam; the death of Pope John and the election of Pope Paul; the Soviet-China rift; the Profumo affair; the sinking of the Thresher; the rescue of trapped miners in Pennsylvania, and the earthquake in Yugoslavia.

Select Seven Coeds For Roses' Court

Seven co-eds from Pasadena (Calif.) City College have been selected as the Royal Court of the 76th annual Tournament of Roses which will be broadcast live and in color Friday, January 1, 1965 (11:30 a.m. - 1:45 p.m. EST) on the CBS Television Network. One of the girls will be chosen Queen of the Tournament.

The girls, all California residents, are Dawn Valmary Baker, 18, Monrovia; Sharon Boydston, 19, Alhambra; Mary Cutler, 19, Altadena; Beverly Hawkins, 17, Pasadena; Jill S. Herrick, 19, Pasadena; Marian Johnson, 19, Altadena, and Christine LeSage, 18, Pasadena.

The seven Royal Court members were selected from 3,309 girls for poise, speaking ability and scholastic achievement, as well as for attractiveness.

COMPLICATED MAKEUP

It requires the services of three of the Westmore brothers themselves, plus two top aides, to transform Fred Gwynne, Yvonne De Carlo and the rest of "The Munsters" into munsters. Some of characters must submit to two hours daily of makeup application. Aiding Bud, Perc and Mike Westmore are Carl Silvera and Abe Hberman.

ALWAYS SPOOF

Joseph Barbara, who should know, says children won't watch television if the material is childish. Though a couple of children are party to the weekly heroics on "Jonny Quest," the situations, insists the veteran animator, are always believable. "We do," he adds, "spoon everything. Right now in 'The Flintstones' we spoof the monster trend in entertainment."

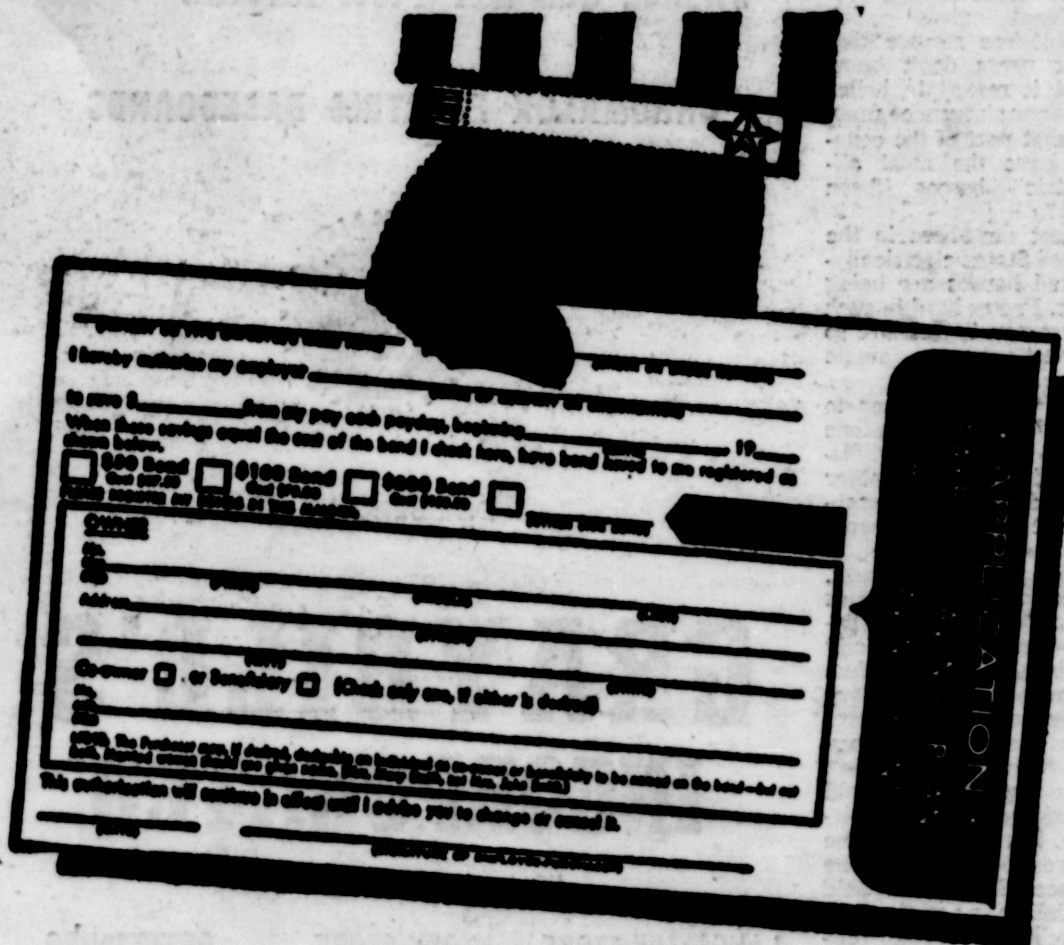

HUGE STUDIOS

CBS's newly consolidated and enlarged New York studios contain 485,023 square feet... described as "more than the size of 10 football fields."

Betty White tells what it's like behind the scenes at the Rose Parade in Ruth E. Thompson's December 26 article.

Type-casting that figures: Playing Dick Van Dyke's younger brother in a couple of upcoming editions of "The Dick Van Dyke" show will be his for-real younger brother, Jerry. Jerry, incidentally, has been busy having recently completed a pilot for a far-out comedy show of his own.

There are an estimated 48 million sheep in Argentina.

How to save money regularly, in spite of yourself

Just ask your paymaster for a card like the one above, and fill it out.

This makes you an official member of the Payroll Savings Plan, entitled to all the rights and privileges thereof.

From now on saving money is no problem. Every payday, your employer sets aside a little from your check and puts it toward the purchase of a U. S. Savings Bond. Your savings come automatically. There's no temptation. No backsliding.

You can get your savings when you need them. But, of course, they'll be worth 38 1/4% more if you wait until your Bonds reach maturity.

Being a Payroll Saver entitles you to feel pretty proud of yourself, too. Because your savings help protect your country's future as they help provide for your own.

Why not talk to your employer and get started saving regularly this payday? You'll be amazed at your new perseverance.

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS
